

REPORT NO. 325
OSOLIN RESEARCH LABORATORIES

ACUTE ORAL RAT
PYNODOR

CONCLUSION

The results of the study showed that the LD<sub>50</sub> value for oral toxicity of Pynodor (Mosquito repellent) is more than 10,000 mg/kg b.w. in rats belonging to both sexes with reference to above study.

REFERENCE

Finney D.J.: Probit Analysis, Cambridge University Press, Cambridge, 1977.

ARCHIVES

A sample of the test substance, along with raw data and a copy of the test report are kept in the Lab's Archives at SGS India Limited, Kottur, Chennai – 600 085, India for a period of five years.